

All change at helm of SSMO

Ian Walterson has stood down from his role as Chair of Shetland Shellfish Management Organisation after 15 year. He has also resigned as a director.

At the SSMO annual general meeting on 26 August, Robert Williamson, already a director, became the new Chair.

SSMO Vice-Chair Garry Leask also resigned, with Sydney Johnson stepping into the post.

A spokesman said: "Ian has been an SSMO director for 22 years and his knowledge and dedication to this voluntary role will be sorely missed. We wish Robert and Sydney well in their new positions on the SSMO Board."
